LOOK OUT FOR FIRES;
SOME YULETIDE DON'TSChief Wagner Warns Parents to Take Precautions During Holidays.Parents, take notice.
If you would keep the fire danger away from your hearthstones, then heed the warnings of Fire Chief Wagner.
Don't allow your children to light Christmas tree candles.
Keep matches out of their reach.
Do not decorate trees with cotton, paper or other inflammable material. Use tinsel and asbestos fibres for this purpose.
If you must introduce the suggestion of snow at your Christmas festivities do not use artificial snow; use white sand instead.
Keep trees away from gas jets and do not place them near open fire places.
Remove them as soon as possible, because they become dry in the house and will easily ignite.INAUGURAL MANAGERS OPEN HEADQUARTERSFrank B. Lord Heads Publicity Committee, with Staff of Associates.Although Chairman Harper has not named the full inaugural committee of 150 to 175 members, selection of such committees is being made rapidly and preparations for the inaugural ceremonies are well under way. Headquarters of the committee were opened yesterday in the gridiron room of the New Willard Hotel.
Frank B. Lord has been appointed chairman of the publicity committee. Mr. Lord is a prominent Washington newspaper correspondent and acted as head of the publicity committee of the last Grand Army reunion held in this city.Publicity Staff Named.
Innovations in newspaper advertising to attract visitors to Washington during the inauguration will be adopted by the publicity committee, Mr. Lord announced yesterday.Grafton S. Wilcox, president-elect of the National Press Club, has been appointed vice chairman of the committee.
James D. Preston, superintendent of the Senate Press gallery, has been named secretary, and William Donaldson, superintendent of the House press gallery, assistant secretary.Other members of the publicity committee appointed by Col. Harper yesterday were: Theodore Tiller, president of the National Press Club; Richard V. Oulahan, chairman of standing committee on correspondence; Frederick W. Steckman, Washington Post; William Kennedy, Washington Star; E. Jesse Conway, Washington Herald.

Ford Party Coming.

Chairman Harper yesterday received a telegram of congratulation from Henry Ford, who said he and a party would attend the inauguration.Gov. Stuart, of Virginia, and Col. Harper yesterday discussed plans for the participation of State governors and their staffs in the inaugural parade. This is expected to be one of the principal features of the parade.While it is believed President Wilson is unalterably opposed to an inaugural ball, Col. Harper is to confer with the President this week to settle the question definitely.Salesmen Defer Organization.
The organization meeting of the Sales-manship Club of Washington, a branch of the World's Salesmanship Congress, which was scheduled for tonight in the Washington Chamber of Commerce rooms, has been postponed until after the first of the year, when announcement will be made of the exact date.
